Carolina Team Wins Its First Intercollegiate Basketball Contest.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Chapel Hill, N. C., January 27 .-Carolina won the first basketball game tian College to-night by the score of 42 to 21. At the start the game was very close. The local players were not up to their form until they had got over the uncertain feeling that came from going in their first intercollegiate contest. The score at the end of the first half was Carolina, 13; V.

Caroline started in the second period with a rush, and soon piled up a big lead on its opponents, who had weakened. The local quint outweighed the Virginia team, but put up an inferior article of team work in the first period. Cartmell was pretty well satisfied with the outcome of the game, and said that he expected a marked improvement by February 1, when the team faces the Durham Y. M. C. A.

Will Tillett attracted attention by the scrappy game he played. The team worked well together when it finally got to going, and there was an abscence of any individual spectacular

We have not only our own business, but large interests in our charge, and we have found it impossible to secure an adequate location. Under the cir-cumstances we believe that it would be doing a wrong to those whose interests we represent to put their business affairs in disorder and confusion.
"It is not a question of the money value of our lease. We are not disposed to sell it. We have expended a considerable amount in fitting our present quarters to meet the peculiar conditions of our business, which embraces interests lying in many States, and we have in our possession the records of many corporations We feel that we would not be justified in putting on them the burdon of confusion that a move would necessarily cause, and even if a location were found, we do not believe that it would be possible for us to be comfortably and adequately housed before the first of April. We contend that our lease is a valid one for two years from last Marcn, and we

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Alexandria, Va., January 27.—A negro here next Thursday to decide on the Chief Goods, accompanied by two prisalary limit, and arrange the schedule vates, stood outside of the place, in the rear part, awaiting the negro to come out. Among local politicians, the fact that Representatives William A. Jones and Carter Glass were in conference in Richmond Thursday evening with their supporters, is taken to indicate that these two candidates for the United States Senate in the coming September primary are to make their race as running mates. There has been considerable speculation on this point, because of the fact that many people who asserted that they knew what they were talking about, have said most positively that Mr. Glass had pledged his personal vote and support to Senator Thomas S. Martin.

But Mr. Glass's announcement of his candidacy, in which he criticized machine methods in Virginia politics, sounded much more like the arguments being put forth against Senator Martin than it did like assertions coming from a supporter of his. With the further fact that he was in company with Mr. Jones at a local conference, it is believed that he will, before the end of the campaign, if not from its beginning, be lined up with the "insurgent" faction of Virginia Democracy."

Those in Conference.

Those who took part in the conference were: Representative Jones, Representative Glass, former Representative Harry St. George Tucker, Robert W. Shultlee and Eugene A. Bilisoly. The two latter are Norfolk attorneys, who were actively engaged in the contest over the seat in Congress from the Second District during the campaign of last autumn. Mr. Shultice was counsel for Representative Harry L. Maynard, while Mr. Billisoly was active in the cidrzens' movement.

While former Governor A. J. Montague was in the hotel while the visitors were there, it is stated from some sources that he was present to attend a meeting of the Juvenile Protective Society, while others say he had a talk with the candidates.

Certain it is that those who took part in the conference have no desire to divulge any information as to the proceedings. The presumption is that a plan of campaign was mapped out, to be followed during the coming months. The meeting, if there was a private one

It is presumed that many such con-ferences will be held by both sides— since it appears there will be only two bides—during the months to come;

Some of us will listen patiently to the remarks made by the recruits let go after the initial tryout. "Why dem muts couldn't see a ball player wid a pair of field glasses." That'll be the explanation back home.

The most noticeable thing about a ball player looking for a job is his innate modesty. He marely speaks of himself as being anything but the very best in the business, and "I would have been with Connie Mack only he wouldn't pay me my price."

Reference to the files of The Times-Dispatch discloses the fact that the wonderful Peninsula League battery secured by Arthur Irwin for the Highlanders, in Burbank and Russell, was correctly reported in these columns just six weeks ago.

Might not be a bad plan for the president to get up a schedule for the league. Such practice is not without precedent, and would save much time and trouble.

The Washington scribes are worrying because Jimmy McAleer spends his winter vacation out in Iowa instead of in Washington. The kick comes because the news which is furnished is old before it gets this far Bast. Which, from a newspaper standpoint, is a perfectly justifiable kick. Have some of the same trouble in Virginia.

If Arthur is sincere and means what he says, then he should make McGraw a valuable man. There has never been any question about his ability. The trouble was that he was not dependable.

nothing seems to become the Richmond is that style of beauty so much as a pennant.

In three weeks the managers of the several clubs will all be on the ground, and then the real work will begin.

Lynchburg is also going to give some of the home talent a chance. Just the best thing in the world to do. Nothing like a little encouragement to develop a ball player.

Just as reported in these columns, Zbyscko found the job of throwing three men in one hour just a little too much. He managed to take Padowski's measure in short order, but Rogers kept him busy for forty minutes, while Gus Schoenlien (Americus) was never in danger for the remaining ten minutes.

At that the Pole put up a game battle and made an excellent showing. New York followers of the game think pretty well of him, and believe that he has more than a chance should he get a match with Gotch.

A. Henry Higginson, millionaire sportsman, master of the Middlesx hounds and steward of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association, is shipping some mighty good leapers into Virginia. His most recent consignment is to G. R. Tompkins, of Warrenton, and includes the high-jumpers Rossfonton, Prince Hampton and Sam Ball, and the hunter, Jiu Jitsu,

Mr. Higginson has had his horses at his place outside of Roston, but wants to get them South for the spring. He is a gentleman rider and expects to enter his string in the several steeplechase events in this section of the country. He will probably go to Norfolk for the spring meet of the Jamestown Jockey Club, providing Bob Levy improves the jumping course. Bill Leary is the latest to sign as a Virginia League umpire. Of course, if you must pun, go as far as you like.

Yes, girls, most ball players work for a living, but you can't always tell who they work.

"Of course," remarked the aviator, smiling one of his most alluring smiles, "it is a wonderful thing to see an aeropiane light on water, but did you ever see a man's head light on something just a wee bit more potent, as it were?"

Now some of you brilliant ones devise some scheme to make the yellow boys beat out a throw by the tip of his queue. What a chance for some Ty Cobb fadcaways?

Young Erne, who collected about $500 in Philadelphia the other night when he met McFarland, is getting an awful panning from the sport writers in Philly. It seems that Erne agreed to enter the ring at 126 pounds. Instead he weighed 145½, while McFarland didn't move the beam at 134. The fans are disgusted with Erne, and the exhibition he gave will probably bar him from any of the reputable clubs in that town unless he is willing to enter the welter class.
